Self -Working Card Tricks

Start: Why “self-working” and why do we care?

- Bluff Oracle Aces I Free cut finds four Aces.
- Bluff Oracle Aces II Performer cuts to an Ace; the Participant finds the other three.
- Ulterior A card discovery and a secret cull.
- Petal To The Metal Participant divines the identity of a predicted card.
- Four-Sided Gemini Brand new Gemini Twins variation. Seriously.
- Ban-nihilation Cameron Francis’ “Annihilation Deck”—without the deck. On Sizzle DVD
- Perennial The Diary trick—without the Diary.
- Prophet Motive Participant shuffles and deals. The prediction cannot be explained.
- The Thirty-Second Sense Pocket change misses, then finds, the participant’s mental selection.
- Mousetrap Two Queens trap a mental selection.
- Second Reckoning Mental selection is mentally spelled to... and found.
- Leverage Performer predicts that participant will miss the target card and by exactly how much.
- Tiny Contrary Killer Participants select a card and think of one. Both have been predicted—sort of.
- Perfect. Participant freely cuts, deals, and stops at a particular card. The performer has predicted it.
- Cross Purposes Mentally-selected card at a chosen number.
- Sort Of Psychic After a few warm-up exercises, the participant cuts to her genuinely thought-of card.
- Origami Poker Revisited Fast fold finds (Royal) flush. From High Caliber.
- Box Of Doom Einstein would not have stood a chance. On Fractalicious DVD
- Free Willy Participant shuffles, cuts, makes a few free choices. Esmeralda knows.
- Matchismo Performer and Participant each shuffles and cuts—and find matching cards. The three digit number has been predicted.
- The Koko Test After a short pop psychology test, the Participant has cut to a subliminally-selected card.
- Nationwide Four freely selected cards match the States of four US quarters—sort of.
- AK-47 Any card is thought of. The performer commits to one card and removes it. Nailed it!
- Depth Charge Any card at any number—sort of.
- Banco Bank Night Bonus. Over one million dollars at stake—really.

Finish: Breaking conventions. Crushing complacency.
